What are the advantages of the Onsite Design & Production Studio?

Better

- The process of creating designs and communications will happen right out of your office and in close interaction with your marketing team
- This gives you more local control over the content and process of communication
- It would also more closely reflect the needs of your marketing team.

Better

- Dedicated team to work exclusively on your account
- Entire team on call to create designs and execute them
- Freedom to prioritize your jobs as per your needs
- All infrastructure vis-à-vis personnel and equipment managed by IMAGEO Media, resulting in an absolutely hassle and maintenance-free studio for you

Faster

- Faster response time.
- Given the locational advantage, the time required to initiate, design, iterate, see options, modify and approve the communications would be dramatically reduced.

Cheaper

- The cost of an Onsite Design & Production Studio would be much, much lower than design, creative and reprographic charges of advertising agencies and brand design firms
- The time saved because of reduced coordination between the design and creative teams would alone justify the setting up of an Onsite Design Studio
- Other divisions (like PR, Personnel, Finance, Admin, IT or Logistics) can equally use the Studio for their internal and external communications
